17th Oct'25 Day 07 – Agra – Fatehpur Sikri - Bharatpur (Local train) – Ranthambhore

Breakfast & Dinner

After breakfast check out and we will be on our way towards Ranthambhore.

Enroute visit Fatehpur Sikri.

Fatehpur Sikri - The deserted red sandstone city built by the great Mughal Emperor Akbar as his capital and palace in the late 16th century. It was abandoned soon after it was built when the local wells went dry and it remains today in much the same condition that it was over 300 years ago. It is complete with palaces and mosques and used to be a town larger than London when it was originally constructed. Now it is an extraordinary place to wander around with its buildings in near perfect condition. At the foot of the ridge, an artificial lake has been created which forms one side of the city. The three other sides are protected by awesome walls with 9 gates. In 1584, only 14 years after moving here, Akbar abandoned this short-lived capital because of a shortage of water. Today the perfectly preserved public halls and private residences speak of a telling unity; it is an epic poem in red sandstone.

After the visit drive to Bharatpur train station wherein we await our short train journey to Sawai Madhopur (Ranthambhore). Indian railways are one of the biggest in the world and you will just get a short glimpse of the rural lifeline of India.

Arrive in Ranthambhore (Sawai Madhopur Train Station) and transfer to your hotel followed by check in.

Ranthambhore National Park was declared a wildlife sanctuary in 1957 and in 1974 it gained the protection of the Government of India's Project Tiger conservation programme. Since then, the numbers of resident tigers have been increasing thanks to dedicated conservation efforts in the area. Ranthambore National Park is one of the biggest and most renowned national parks in Northern India.

One of the largest stepwells in the world, Chand Baori was built to conserve water and provide a respite from the intense heat. It was a community gathering place for locals as well as royals. Chand Baori is an architectural wonder with 3,500 perfectly symmetrical, narrow steps. It is this exquisite geometry that draws local and international visitors to it every year. But Chand Baori is not easy to find, making it one of India's hidden wonders. The play of light and shadow on the steps is what makes the structure so captivating. The baori narrows as one gets closer to the bottom. A double flight of steps on three sides takes one to the surface of the water below. The fourth side is a three-storeyed pavilion with intricately carved jharokhas (windows), galleries and balconies meant for the royal family to sit in. Adjoining the Chand Baori is the Harshat Mata Temple. This 9th-10th century temple is dedicated to Harshat Mata, who is considered to be the goddess of joy and happiness for the whole village.
